CONDITION OF AFFAIRS STILL BAD ON THE MINNESOTA RESERVATION.

FEDERAL AND STATE AUTHORITIES WORKING TOGETHER-SOME OF THE CHIPPEWAS PROFESS FRIENDSHIP-PLANS OF THE HOSTILES. .

Minneapolis, Oct. 10.-The Federal and State authorities are now working in harmony toward the quelling of the Indian revolt. General Bacon offered to come down from Walker this evening to confer with Governor Clough, but the latter advised conference by telegraph. He received the following message from General "Situation bad; conference yesterday resulted in nothing. None of the Indian chiefs were there. The lumbermen are all coming into Walker. Troops needed at Cass Lake."

Nevertheless, the Governor believes that the situation is well in hand, and that the recalcitrants are practically surrounded by soldiers. The construction crews on the northwestern extension of the Brainerd and Northern Railroad to Bemidji, and northward to Cass Lake, have joined the refugees at Walker, and it may be necessary to send them back to work under guard, as these two extensions, in the event of a prolongation of the trouble, would be of great strategic value. Troops may yet be placed a three more points, in addition to the present forces at Fossion line points. These are where the line crosses the Mississippi and the Indian portage trail three miles west of Ball Club Lake. With these avenues of escape cut off, it would be practically impossible for the hostiles to escape northward.

SOME OF THE CHIPPEWAS FRIENDLY. From Park River the Governor has received a personal statement, signed by Chief Ned-Gay-Bug-Enanoway-Rush:

Pine Point, October 9. We, the Chippewa Indians at Pine Point, beg to state to the public that we are perfectly friendly to the whites, and have no ill-feeling or are in any way hostile. We have decided at the council not to take any part whatever in take any part whatever in the Leech Lake trouble.

This morning 130 men of the Fourteenth Minnesota started for towns on the Fosston extension of the Great Northern road, on the northem border of the Leech Lake Reservation. Lieutenant-Colonel Johnson was in command, and he had with him Major Schaefer, Captain Helmis, Adjutant Winne, Surgeon Dorsey, Lieutenants Baker, Brisbin, Smiley, O'Brien and Quartermaster Cox. The men carried tents, 100 rounds of animunition each, and several days' rations. They are mostly from Companies E and I but all the twelve companies are repremated. They will be stationed mostly at Farris and Bernidji.

Adjutant-General Muchlberg of the State Militia telegraphs to Governor Clough from Deer River, on the Fosston line:

"Have scouts out to get reliable information. The people are frightened all along the line. More troops should be stationed west of here Bemidji is much excited."

A dispatch to "The Journal" from Bemidji, Minn., says:

Mm Grey's lecture style is not ingratiating, except possibly to those who are anxious to hear hens croin the "Ercle's vein," but the matter of her discourse is well worthy of attention. WHAT THE INDIAN PLANS ARE. A dispatch to "The Tribune" from Walker

It is reported on the authority of a citizen who has conversed with a hostile Pillager Indian one who was in Wednesday's battle and who sat in all the councils of the Pillagers, that the Indians have sworn to an agreement to accom-plish if possible the following: They will at-tempt in a few days to drive from the reservation all of the troops already there. They will, if they are successful in this, not allow any United States authorities or United States troops thereafter to land upon the reservation. If troops land upon the reservation. If hostile Indians an attempt will be made to drive them off as soon as possible.

several days is a well-known fact, and it seems perfectly reasonable to suppose that they are gathering for an attack on a body of troops at least 200 strong, as those at the agency are. Up to date the hostile Indians have made no attack upon white settlers. There are no indicathe fact that they will confine their hostilities to the reservation alone.

Another dispatch says: Flatmouth and his band of forty Chippewa Indians may be on the warpath before another day has passed. At the council to be held at noon to-day he will deliver a message asking that the troops be taken away from the agency, and informing the authorities that in the event a refusal to do this he will join the hostile

was held at the agency this afternoon, and was well attended by Flatmouth and representative delegations. General Bacon and Inspector Tinker told the Bear Islanders that if they would give up the men for whom warrants were issued and come in themselves they could go home. If they resisted the Government would not rest till the recalcitrants had been captured and the Bear Islanders would not then be permitted to coupy the Islands again. This message will reach the hostiles by runners to-night. General Bacon's terms were received by the chiefs with signs of evident pleasure, and they all signified their approval of them. It is believed the Pil-

WHAT GERONIMO SAYS OF THE TROUBLE. EDUCATED INDIANS SHOULD HAVE SOMETHING

TO DO-END OF THE RACE AT HAND. Omaha, Oct. 10 .- "The Minnesota Indians will the that they have made a great mistake in going on the warpath," says Geronimo, the famous Apache chief, who is one of the Indians how in camp at the Indian Congress. "I have Mever been in Minnesota, but I hear that up there and for hundreds of miles beyond the white men are as many as the blades of grass If that is so, what can a few poor Indians do in a fight? They are making a great mistake and te fools. For years I fought the white man, thinking that with my few braves I could kill them all, and that we would again have the land that our Great Father gave us and which He covered with game. I thought that the Great Spirit would be with us, and that after we had killed the white men the buffalo, deer and intelope would come back. After I fought and lest, and after I travelled over the country In which the white man lives and saw his cities and the work that he had done, my heart was ready to burst. I knew that the race of the ladian was run."

Asked what he thought would eventually be-tome of the Indian, Geronimo hesitated a mo-ment and then, pointing to the West, replied:

Asked what he thought would eventually become of the Indian, Geronimo hesitated a moment and then, pointing to the West, replied:

The sun rises and shines for a time and then it goes down, sinking out of sight and is lost. So it will be with the Indians.

When I was a boy my father told me that the Indians were as many as the leaves on the trees, and that way off in the North they had many horses and furs. I never saw them, but I know that if they were then they have to many horses and furs. I never saw them, but I know that if they were then they have so many and the white man has taken all they lad. It will be only a few years more until the holes the white man has written. They are not the people that the Great Father loves, for if they were He would protect them. They have tried to please Him, but they do not know how.

Schools are good things for Indians, but it lakes many years to change the nature of an indian. If an Indian boy goes to school and learns to be like a white boy, he comes back to the Agency, and there is nothing for him to do but put on a blanket and be like an Indian sain. This is where the Government is to Mine. When it takes our children away and diseases them it should give them something to do not turn them loose to run wild upon the Agency. Until that time comes, educating the indian is throwing money away. What can an accusa.

There will be no more Indian wars. The Indians feeting the will be no more Indian wars.

firm and the cause of the failure has been given out. The concern supplied Heckman, Bissell & Co., the leather firm which failed last week for a large amount, with oil, and it is thought that the failure may have been precipitated by that of the leather firm. There will be no more Indian wars. The Indian's fighting days are over, and there is nothing left for him to do but to be a beggar and ire on charity around the Agency."

last night, when the Castle Square company brought forward Verdi's opera of "Aida." No doubt there were many well-wishers of the enterprise which eems to have established itself firmly at Forty-second-st. and Eighth-ave, who looked askance at the announcement that "Patience" would be succeeded by "Aida." They were justified, too, in their apprehension, for last year's experiences were not of the kind to encourage high hopes touching so trying a work as "Aida." But one of the ele-absence in the ordinary Italian opera company is abundant in the Castle Square company, and that is enthusiasm. From the prime uome and the prima donna down to the last man and woman in the chorus everybody sang with an energy worthy of the highest artistic cause, and thus spiked one of the critical guns that are oftenest trained against operatic performances-for even the critic appreciates honest effort. Unhappily, however, it was not always possible to recognize that the energy was prompted by an understanding of the means by which artistic ends are gained, and so the listener was asked to accept volume of tone for expression, and an exposition of the body of Verdi's musical drama for its spirit. The exposition was rude, even brutal at times, but it was impossible to withhold admiration from it, and the only regret was that the one thing needful in the shape of a directing spirit of proper intelligence and feeling was not present. Verdi's opera needs no better voices than those of Yvette di Treville, Lizzie Mac-nicol, William Stewart and Joseph Sheehan, who sang the principal parts last night, to publish its musical contents, and the favor with which the representation was received was a plain indication that the external elements were also satiscially in the orchestra-was too obvious to

of this work will act as a compelling force in that direction. Many a European community would rejoice in the possession of such a performance of Verdi's opera. Miss de Treville and Miss Mac-nichol sang like artists of the first rank, and Mr.

Sheehan disclosed a voice which would be the fortune everlasting of a man with dramatic inelligence and emotions to back it. Mr. Stewart, too, sang well, but every welling-up enthusiasm was rudely checked by something which seemed to say that the opera had been learned from the planoforte score, and that somebody was needed to tell the performers how to make its contents

START FOR OMAHA EXPOSITION.

Washington, Oct. 10.-The Washington official party which is to attend the Omaha Exportion started to-day, going by two separate trains over the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio railroads. Their itineraries are so arranged that the two parties will arrive at Chicago and later at Omaha close to each other. The Presidential party went over the Pennsylvania road at 9 o'clock. The train was a handsome one of four cars, including the sleepers Secrates and Dromio, the dining-car Gilsey and the combination car Brutus. At Canton the Campania, with President McKinley, will be attached. The party is due to arrive in Chicago at 7 o'clock to-morrow morning. From the Baltimore and Ohlo station the other train started a few minutes after 8 o'clock. Aboard it were General Miles and other Army officers, the members of the Diplomatic Corps and the representatives of the press. UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT OPENS.

MANY IMPORTANT CASES TO BE DECIDED AT

Washington, Oct. 10.—The full term of the United States Supreme Court began at noon to-day, the this senson by the club. President Henry W. Jessop presided. Justice Daly said in part:

A question that has come directly to the front at this time is the duty and responsibility of the bar with respect to the nomination and election of judges. It has been embodied in our Constitution for fifty years that judges must be elected by the people and 'regard the provision as a wise one; but since it is essential to the very life of the profession—that is to say, indispensable to the preservation of the legal safeguards which protect the life, liberty and property of clients—that the bench is nould be occupied by men not only capable, but absolutely independent and deaf to all considerations but justice, the duty of the legal profession would seem to be plain enough.

And what I observe is that the bar not only sees here a plain duty, but is conscious that it possesses the necessary power to perform that duty in the most efficient way for the public service. I said a few days ago, in addressing the bar at the time of the consolidation of the courts, that it remained with the legal profession to have the judges it wanted, that a courageous bar makes an incorruptible judiciary. I can only add that it is by the exercise of courage in the skilful use of its be julimate weapons that they do, to present the best candidates for judicial office it must greatly arrengthen their hands to have the suggestions of the bar to that end. It is worthy of note that where such suggestions have been formally tendered by the bar not a voice has been raised by the organs of the popiety of such action by the practitioners of the law. Indeed, so obvious is their right to counsel on this subject, which involves the entire community's welfare, that their action is regarded with the respect and approval which are only bestowed upon the highest acts of citizenship. The gravity of the situation which awoke such action is recognized.

Alke are all struck by the speciacle of a great profession declaring itself on a matter in which. Justices coming together after their summer vaca-tion. There was added interest in the reassembling this year, owing to the importance of some of the cases about to be decided, including the test of the legality of the railroad traffic associations.

A FIGHT WITH FIRE AT SEA.

The Netherland-American steamer Statendam, which arrived at her pier at Fourth-st., Hoboken, yesterday morning, had an exciting voyage. In addition to rough weather the crew had a terrible fight with fire when within three days of New-York. The fire was discovered last Wednesday, when smoke was seen coming from the coal bunk-ers. The men got outekly to work, and keeping all knowledge of the danger from the passengers, suc-ceeded in putting out the flames after eight hours' incessant and exciting labor. HE DISCUSSES THE TOPICS OF THE TIME BEFORE THE HAMILTON CLUB.

THE AUDITORIUM CROWDED WITH LISTENERS THE SPEAKER DESCRIBES RESULTS OF DEMOCRATIC THEORIES IN CONTRAST WITH REPUBLICAN RESULTS

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] Chicago, Oct. 10.-This has been a Republican field day in Chicago. The inspiration for the great campaign to be waged all through the Northwest for the election of members of Congress pledged to held in the Auditorium this afternoon. The Hamfiton Club, of this city, of which Hope Reed Cody is president, is a sterling Republican organization thoroughly aggressive in its politics. been the custom of this club to take the initiative in every campaign by holding a rousing Republican rally, enlisting the services of speakers of National renown, and sounding the first note of the campaign for Chicago and the Northwest, to be taken up and fought to a finish by the regular organization, to which the Hamilton Club acts as a valuable and vigilant auxiliary.

The meeting this afternoon was such a one and was of tremendous volume. Chauncey M. Depew was the orator of the day, and he made a telling argument that will-furnish the text for many of speeches to be made later in the campaign. He took as his theme sound money, expansion, the protection of American industries and other National issues. When he mentioned the name of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt there was tremendous cheering and cries of "Our next President!

His glowing picture of a greater empire for this Nation to be wrought out by Republican states-manship also evoked tremendous applause. His speech in this Democratic stronghold in defence of Republicanism and sound money was received in a way that would indicate that Bryanism and all that the name implied is waning here, and that the West stands ready to support the Administration by a largely increased Republican vote and the election of a greater number of Republican Congressmen

Before the introduction by President Cody of Judge Peter S. Grosscup, who spoke briefly, battle songs and National anthems were given by a chorus of two hundred voices, assisted by the United States Band and the Auditorium organ.

Depen was presented amid great applause. He spoke in part as follows.

Certainly what has transpired since November, 1896, astonishes even the American people. It does more; it astonishes even the most imaginative and prophetic of them. It was not in the power of the human mind to conceive the wonderful and beneficial changes which would happen in twenty-four months. From industrial paralysis has come industrial activity; from labor valinly seeking employment has come employment seeking labor, from capital hidden and locked up and unremunerative and worse than useless has come capital flowing into channels which add to the strength, prospectly and worse than useless has come capital flowing into channels which add to the strength, prospectly and wealth or the whole country; from goom we are in the light, and from despair we are happy. But this is not all. From an isolated Nation, living within liself, seeking only the development of its own resources and unknown in the politics and policles of other countries, we have become by a series of victories which surpass the achievements on sea or on land of any period a great world power.

It does not require much thought or great erudition to discover the causes of the disasters of 1893, 1894 and 1803. The Democratic theorists, who had been discussing for a generation in an academic way the problems of government, said: "Now that we have the opportunity, let us bring about the millennium at once by putting into practice our theories." Then came the chaos of financial suggestion and the Wilson Tariff bill.

The change between 1894 and 1892 illustrates as never before in the history of an industrial nation the yawning chasm between canfidence and distrust, the rumpant schemes for changing the standard of value by the Wilson Tariff bill created distrust; the rumpant schemes for changing the standard of value for the issue of flat money, for an impossible double standard, for giving sliver a value by legislation which it did not possess in the markets of the world, by su

BLANCHE WILLIS HOWARD VON TEUFEL Blanche Willis Howard von Teufel died last Priday at Munich, Germany. She was born in Bangor, Me., and was well known as a novelist by her maiden name. Blanche Willis Howard, She went abroad in 1878, and in 1890 was married to the late abroad in 1878, and in 1830 was married to the late to the North Young Teufel, at one time physician-in-ordinary to the King of Würtemberg.

Most of Mme. Von Teufel's work consisted in defineation of American, and particularly New-England, life and character. "One Summer" was her first work, and attracted much attention. Among her other works were "Seven on the Highway. "Aulnay Tower," "Tony the Maid." "One Year Abroad," "Aunt Serena," "Guenn" and "The Open Door,"

VARIOUS ENTERTAINMENTS.

William H. West's Minstrei Jubilee began an engagement of a week at the Grand Opera House isst night. The performance given was slightly varied from that of the Primrose & West minstrels of other seasons, but it was substantially the same in kind. Among the members of the company are William H. West, Ezra Kendall, Carrol Johnson, R. J. Rose, "Tom" Lewis, Charles M.
Ernest, Clement Stewart, Trovollo, the Freeze brothers, Edward Gorman, Joseph Garland, H. W.
Frillman, McMahon and Knight, and Charles Kent.

Mme. Camilla Urso played the violin at Proctor's Mme. Camilla Urso played the violin at Proctor's Twenty-third Street Theatre yesterday, and was the leading feature of the programme. Harry Lacy and Ida Van Sicien played "One of the Old Guard." Miss Minnie Dupree and Theodore M. Brown presented "Dr. Deborah's Ellixir." Others on the programme were "Lew" Bloom, assisted by Jane Cooper; Ward and Curran, Mile. Orbasany's trained cockatoos, Diana's prismatic mitror dances, the Seven Reed Birds, James Richmond Genroy.

S. Miller Kent appeared at the Pleasure Palace yesterday in a one-act piece called "Jack's Past." The bill was made up of the Rossow Midgets, Press Eldridge, Josephine Gassman and her pickaninnies, Lotta Gladstone, monologuist; Stirk and Anita, aerial performers: the five Cornalias, acrobats; Edna Eassett Marshall and the "wargraph."

"In Gotham" was continued at Koster & Bia." last night, with some changes, the most notable being the addition of special features to the ballets. The short vaudeville programme with which the entertainment begins is the same as last week.

There was little change at Weber & Fields's Music Hall last evening. "Hurly Burly" was played and was enjoyed in the same fashion as formerly. Considerable alterations will be made

J. H. Stoddart was the star of the performance at Keith's Union Square Theatre yesterday. He gave a scene from "The Long Strike," repeating his always popular impersonation of Moneypeany. A long bill afforded amusement to the usual crowds that were in attendance through the afternoon and evening.

Poldi's Gypsy Orchestra continues to attract attention at the Eden Musée. The programmes of the afternoon and evening concerts are made up largely of Poldi's own compositions, and the solos and duets given by different members of the or-chestra pleased everybody. The cinematograph is showing new war views and other scenes of an interesting character.
